Grade School Addition Proposals Lose; Vote Largest For District

Board Canvasses Vote But Makes No Statement of Plans

The proposal to build an addition to the Antioch Grade school through a $350,000 bond issue was defeated. The proposal to build the addition lost 191 to 222, and the bond issue lost 191 to 222.

It was the largest vote in the history of the school district, Principal Richard Whitacre said.

The board met immediately afterward in canvassing the vote and adjourned until the next meeting, Jan. 8.

No statement was issued by the board members and no comment was made on what future action it would take.

While there was no way of telling how the people voted it was significant that 174 parents voted and there were 175 votes which favored the bond issue.

There was indication through the difference in the vote on the two propositions that the voters favor an addition but did not approve the extent of plans as reflected in the bond issue.

That there was much interest in the referendum was shown by the heavy voting during a cold winter day with much snow on the highways over which rural residents had to travel.

The canvass of votes by the board revealed that there were 14 void or defective ballots on the first proposition and 17 on the second proposition and that a total of 427 persons voted.

Fire Destroys Mink House, Equipment at Harold Kelly's Ranch

The work room, freezer compartment and well house on the Harold Kelly mink farm near Loon lake were destroyed by fire of undetermined origin about 10:30 a. m. Saturday.

The Antioch fire department assisted the Lake Villa department until the blaze was brought under control.

The owner was away from home at the time but his son, Joe, saw the blaze which he said first appeared at the well house and turned in the alarm.

Kelly said he would rebuild as soon as weather permits and expects a cost of $15,000 in replacing the building and all of its equipment which includes tools for dressing the mink.

Consumed in the fire was the mink ranch owner's supply of horse meat and fish used in feeding the mink. Until a new supply and a freezer are obtained Kelly has been supplied by meats from the Meyer Mink farm near Wedges Corners.

Christmas Shopping Nears Last Rush; Many Parties Given

With but three shopping days left, Antioch residents are busy completing their gift lists and sending out Christmas greetings.

The Antioch stores still have a good selection to choose from and the local citizens are finding it quite advantageous to shop at home. Stores open at night aid considerably.

Between shopping trips many of the citizens found time to attend Christmas parties.

The schools and churches are leading the way in this respect. The high school will have its party during the sixth period tomorrow and the Antioch grade school will celebrate Friday afternoon following a P. T. A. meeting. Each class will provide some kind of entertainment.

St. Peter's school has its program today with a luncheon and program during which Santa Claus appeared with gifts for all of the youngsters.

Regal China Co. had its party over the weekend; the Women of the Moose had a party for a large number of children and the Colony House had a party for its employees Tuesday. There were many other Christmas parties of small groups.

Business will come to a full stop on Christmas day with but a few stores opening for a short time in the morning. Restaurants and taverns will cater to those wanting to eat out, but it will be mostly an occasion for family gatherings at home.

The president announced that anyone interested in joining the Players may contact the secretary or any one of the members.

The puppet show recently sponsored by the group was quite successful and plans were discussed for making it an annual event.

Civil Defense Plans Alert Test in Entire Lake Co. Area Soon

Villages to Assemble First Aid, Fire and Police Equipment

An alert test for the North Shore area from Highland Park to Winthrop Harbor is considered by the Civil Defense for late in February or in March, Richard Willer, Libertyville, Lake county co-ordinator said today.

In letters to village boards and city councils Willer sounded out reaction of the members on a plan that would see a gigantic rehearsal of civilian conduct in time of an enemy raid.

Emphasis will be centered on the area two miles inland from Lake Michigan, although further west in the county men and equipment will be assembled close to village limits.

The test will call for intensive and extensive planning, Co-ordinator Willer said.

At a given signal, fire and police equipment and personnel will be assembled for action, transportation units will be readied, and first aid teams with Red Cross equipment and personnel will be put through their drills.

Willer said he expects the Public Service Co. of Illinois and the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. to participate.

Many communities already have their Civilian Defense committees appointed and instructed; others will be given opportunity to organize.

Through the alert test, Civilian Defense executives will be able to determine the best procedures in event of a real enemy attack which they hope will never occur.

Antioch High Observes Approach of Christmas With Parties and Dance

All of the rooms of the high school—the offices, the class rooms, the corridors, the cafeteria and the library—have been gaily decorated for the holidays by the students, who used their own time and money to help the Student council make this year's Christmas program successful.

"Personally, I think it is one of the best examples of active participation in citizenship by all students I have seen since coming to Antioch," said Mr. Edmundson, principal.

The council provided the huge tree in the hall and decorated the offices and cafeteria. All else was volunteered by the student body. Many novel ideas were expressed, too numerous to mention. All were artistically done and even the Palatine visitors to the basketball game Friday commented on the looks of the school with its festive air.

Friday, the Student council will present a program in the gym at the beginning of the sixth period. Members from all classes will participate with individual numbers, and a special prayer and a violin solo by Mr. Ruffalo, music teacher, will be given.

After the program during which carols will also be sung, the students will receive candy from Santa Claus, who will be stationed by the tree in the main hall.

The members of the Council who are given much credit for their (continued on page 8)

Antioch Churches Plan Services for Christmas; Have Midnight Meeting

Christmas, a wholly religious holiday, will see the churches of Antioch administering to the spiritual life of its adherents through commemoration of the birth of its founder in various types of services.

Midnight services Christmas eve will be common to the Catholic, Episcopal and Methodist churches, while church school programs were also planned.

A Christmas pageant entitled, "Christmas—Then and Now" under the direction of Mrs. O. L. Raether will be presented at the Methodist church in Antioch on Sunday evening at 7:30. Taking part in the pageant will be young people from the church school and three youth choirs—a boys' choir, girls' choir and a high school girls' chorus from the church. Mrs. Frank Royer is the accompanist.

The pageant has a modern setting yet retells the age-old story of Christmas with carefully prepared scenes of the nativity of Jesus. The first Reader will be Marlene Wertz and the second reader, David Cain. The part of Mary will be taken by Patricia Grutzmacher and that of Joseph by Heinz Kaiser. The three angels will be Judy Sorensen, Joyce Edrinn and Margaret Ott.

The Three Wise Men will be Junior Nielsen, Gordon Amendola and Arthur Wertz. Lonnie Christensen and Kenneth Andersen are to be the two shepherds. Special music by the youth choirs will include "O Holy Night," "There's a Song in the Air," and "Shepherds Awake" by the high school girls' chorus. The girls' choir will sing "Christmas Lullaby" and "Sweet Story." The boys' choir will sing, "O Star of Bethlehem." A group of youngsters from the Primary Department will sing, "Away in a Manger."

The service will begin with an organ and piano duet which has been arranged by Mrs. Frank Royer, pianist and Mrs. G. R. Tuttle, organist. Miss June Kutil of Antioch will play two violin selections.

To Bring Gifts

Young people attending the Church School Christmas program will, in keeping with their annual tradition, bring white gifts for the Lake Bluff orphanage. Gifts may include used clothing which is in good condition, especially snow clothes. Other items suggested include the following which might be either new or in good used condition: belts for boys 8 to 14 years of age, house slippers for girls 6 to 7, sheets and pillow cases and towels (size 18 by 36), dresser sets, flannel shirts for boys, white shirts for boys 6 to 8 years of age, pant hangers, nail files, scotch tape, combs, pen and pencil sets, bathing suits, overnight bags, Lincoln logs, records, roller and ice skates, doll clothes.

St. Ignatius Services

St. Ignatius Episcopal church will have Evensong at 4 p. m. Sunday, followed by a Christmas party for the church school members and their families in Guild hall.

There will be Holy Penance from 7 to 8 p. m. Christmas eve and starting at 11:30 there will be midnight Eucharist. There will be Eucharist at 9:30 a. m. Christmas day. Fr. Roberts Eghott will officiate.

Services at St. Peter's

The Christmas services for St. Peter's Catholic church call for confessions from 4 to 6 p. m. and from 7:30 p. m. until all are heard Monday. There will be solemn mass at midnight and on Christmas day there will be low mass at 6, 8, 9 and 11 a. m. and high mass at 10 a. m.

Weather Cuts Attendance At High School Concert

Old Man Winter put the damper on what should have been a capacity crowd at the High School music department Annual Christmas concert, staged last night in the Grade school auditorium. About three hundred persons braved the storm to hear the youngsters display their musical talent, but given good weather, the concert would have attracted a great many more.

The program was described as excellent by those who were in attendance, and was well enjoyed by all. The department is to be especially congratulated for the rapid-fire way in which the program was presented, with seventeen numbers being presented in about one and a half hours. This is at variance with the usual delay and confusion which has been evidenced in past concerts and Mr. Ruffalo, director, is also to be congratulated in this respect.

The program consisted of three parts, with the Chorus presenting four numbers in the curtain-raiser; the band playing three numbers, and the Sequoia Music Makers, the popular group, finishing the program with the presentation of ten numbers, each featuring a vocalist or dancer.

Funds derived from the Christmas concert are placed in the treasury of the Music Makers, which is an extra-curricular activity. All rehearsal of this group is done before or after school hours, and no school time is taken up in the study of this type of music.

Antioch to Play Ela; Loses to Palatine and Bensenville Last Week

After losing two games last week, one an overtime heart-breaker, the Antioch Township High school basketball team will undertake to defeat Ela-Vernon at Lake Zurich tomorrow evening.

The game originally scheduled for Jan. 4 was moved up two weeks because of the holidays.

The Sequoia may have the Christmas spirit but if the Bears win it will not be a Christmas gift from either the varsity or the sophomores who play the opener.

Scott's Sequoia were the victims of their second overtime defeat at the hands of Palatine last Friday evening here. The score was 58 to 54.

The defeat was doubly bitter because the Sequoia held the lead throughout the game until the final minute. They led at the half 32 to 17 and at the third quarter 38 to 33. Then in the overtime period field goals by Paul Biel and Bruce Stahmer and a free throw by Bud Dittmer gave them a 54 to 49 advantage.

A Pirate rally, however, with sniping by Paul Schrage, Zoellich and Busch put the visitors out in front when the gun sounded. (Continued on Page 8)

Richmond P. S. C. Employee Electrocuted at Harvard

Edmund Karls, 32, of Richmond, an employee of the Public Service Co. of Northern Illinois for the past 10 years, was accidentally electrocuted at Harvard, Ill., last Saturday. The funeral service was held Tuesday.

Karls was at the top of a pole when he touched a live power line. Another workman said the Richmond man slid down the pole to within five feet of the ground where his safety belt caught. Artificial respiration was attempted without success.

The wife and two children survive.

Lake Villa May Supply Allendale Water, Fire Protection; Get Land

Property Would Be Used for Proposed Sewage Disposal Plant

President Walter Schneider of the Lake Villa board of trustees said that a transaction is under way through which the village will supply water and fire protection for Allendale School for Boys in return for 15 acres of land to be used as a site for the village's sewage disposal plant.

The property adjoins that which the school recently sold to Claire Sherwood southwest of the village. It was formerly the Henry Atwell farm.

Schneider said that the village already has a $64,000 bond issue to provide money to pay part of the cost of the sewage disposal plant, but that some way would be sought to obtain the rest.

Plans for the sewage system prepared by engineers for the Allendale school are being sent to Springfield for approval of the State Sanitary Water board.

County's 195 Cases Of Tuberculosis This Year Prompts More Seal Sales

Lake county had 195 of the approximately 100,000 new reported cases of tuberculosis in the nation last year. This is at variance with the usual delay and confusion which has been evidenced in past concerts and Mr. Ruffalo, director, is also to be congratulated in this respect.

Mrs. Gerard Fossland, Christmas Seal chairman, reported that Christmas Seal proceeds to date total $27,127.68 or $22,872.32 less than the county goal of $50,000 the minimum needed to carry out the 1952 tuberculosis program of the tuberculosis association, which conducted the Christmas Seal sale.

"The response of the Christmas Seal sale by the majority of county residents has been excellent," Mrs. Fossland stated. "All of us are grateful to those who have bought and used Christmas seals, but we urge those who have not yet done so to acknowledge their Christmas Seal letters. Meanwhile we are confident of wholehearted support by the community which will make it possible for the association to put all its plans for the new year into operation."

"Giving support to the annual Christmas Seal sale is one way we can all join in the fight against tuberculosis," Mrs. Fossland continued. "Christmas Seal purchases mean ammunition against tuberculosis—a disease which leads all other diseases as a cause of death among young adults between 15 and 35."

The chest clinic sponsored by the Lake County Tuberculosis association will not be held at the Sanatorium Dec. 24 or Dec. 31. The clinic will be held as usual Wednesday and Friday following Christmas.

At St. Therese hospital it was said her hip was bruised but not broken. The girl is a junior in Waukegan High school. The girl was blinded by snow and walked into the path of the car.

"Senator Robert A. Taft is as confident a candidate for nomination and election to the presidency as experienced observers have seen since the early Roosevelt campaigns," writes Doris Fleeson in one of her Washington columns. "The senator's attitude shows that he believes what his managers contend: That he is far out in front of his rivals for the Republican nomination and that the Truman administration, largely because of the tax scandals, is in real trouble."

The Ohio solon's faith in his own destiny, at least so far as gaining the nomination is concerned, is certainly justified. No other candidate, actual or potential, has anything remotely resembling Taft's efficient and politically-astute organization. No one else has done so much solid groundwork, or has made himself so clear on the major issues which will dominate the next campaign. And no one else has so formidable an array of backers who will control state delegations at the GOP convention.

That General Eisenhower has been a disappointment to his followers, goes without saying. To quote Miss Fleeson again, "So far the Eisenhower campaign is not off the ground; perhaps it cannot get off until the general makes some overt move to encourage his supporters. Right now it has produced more personal publicity for its managers than anything else; something is lacking to give it momentum and bite." The general's position grows more and more equivocal as time goes on. He has steadfastly refused to commit himself politically, which is certainly understandable in the light of his present position. Yet his statements have been so phrased that his backers still have logical grounds to hope that he will be available for the race after all. In any event, it is clear that he cannot wait much longer if he wants to be summoned; before much more time passes Taft could be in control of enough votes to make an Eisenhower nomination unlikely.

The formal entry of Governor Warren into the tussle was not unexpected. The governor has been a tremendous vote-getter in his own state of California—in the last campaign he won so handily as to make it virtually no contest. He is a middle of the roader—what some call a "New Deal Republican." He is strongly opposed to Taft, and his declaration is in part based on a "Stop Taft" philosophy. At the same time, he could very well be tapped for the candidacy if the Taft and Eisenhower forces deadlocked and prevented the nomination of either man. This isn't likely now, but it's a far cry from impossible.

Once more, reports are making the rounds that President Truman has definitely decided not to run, and will so state around the first of the year. His choice for the Democratic nomination, the reports continue, is Chief Justice Vinson. Fly in the ointment is that many influential Democrats are very cold to the Vinson idea. Another fly is that Justice Vinson may be well-satisfied with his life-time position as chief of the highest tribunal in the land, and so may not want to take to the unpredictable political wars

The Low Down from Hickory Grove

Now and then I will get up my nerve—venture out a 100 or 200 miles on the highway. So far I have made it back home. I marvel that I actually came through unscathed.

Why will folks at the steering wheel—young ones and spavins, male and female—cross a double, do-not-cross, line. First, I reckon it must be that they are not too hefty in the belfry, to begin with—a head-on collision is as apt to kill or maim the dumb driver as it is to kill the innocent ones who can't avoid the killer. Maybe the guy or dame has hoisted one too many short beers blended with fire water mixes, and don't know whether it is a double line or one line or a flock of lines they are barging over in their flamboyant fashion. How these guys and dames got their drivers' license in the first place, is a 5 buck question.

In this short essay—my bright idea is this—print up a flock of neat little signs reading, "I cross double lines, nonchalant." Put one sign on the back of each person's car, as the driver is up for the first offense—and keep it there for 30 days—and see what happens.

And for the second bright idea—and looking into the distant future—put "manners" as a required one-half hour per day into every curriculum, grade school, high school, and clear up to the big university. Soft pedal in the school house, social uplift, and substitute therefor "good manners" and "horse sense."

Yours with the low-down,

JO SERRA

CHRISTMAS STAR OVER CHICAGOLAND

In connection with Christmas in Chicagoland, the world's largest star, 14 stories in height, is lighted on Christmas Eve by illuminating windows of the Palmolive Building. The Christmas star this year is on the south side of the building, saluting the holiday observance of the North Michigan Avenue Association. Lights on the north side of the Palmolive Building are arranged to form a 21-story cross that can be seen for miles from Chicago's famed Outer Drive. The photos show the Palmolive Building with the Old Water Tower in the foreground. Streaks of light are caused by moving automobile traffic on Michigan Avenue.

Library Notes

In "His Name Was Jesus," Mary Alice Jones retells the story of Jesus for young people. She begins her story with His visit to the Temple in Jerusalem and the reader travels the familiar land of Galilee to the inevitable tragedy of Gethsemane. The book ends with Jesus' charge to Peter—"Feed My Sheep." Mrs. Jones has given much thought to the background of the story and the Biblical scenes have a dramatic freshness and reality. "His Name Was Jesus" was presented to the Antioch Township library in memory of Mrs. William Oetting.

When Lloyd C. Douglas completed "The Big Fisherman" he announced that he would never attempt another novel. But his readers refused to accept his decision. "Time to Remember" is an answer to the millions who wanted to know more about the author. It is not a formal biography. It is reminiscences of his boyhood spent in country parsonages, his parents, and his college days. "Time to Remember" is on the library shelves in memory of Mrs. William Oetting.

Everyone Wants To See Just One 'Good Old' Yule

"How I would long to see just one more 'old-fashioned Christmas'!"

These are familiar words at this time of the year. Before the Yuletide season is over, some member of the family, grandfather or grandmother, probably, is certain to pass that remark, as they have done each Christmas of the past.

And yet, if we search back into the records . . . to the turn of the century, say . . . we find that, even then, someone was wishing for "an old-fashioned Christmas." It is then that we realize that the celebration of the birth of Christ has not changed greatly with the passage of centuries. Basically, Christmas is the same, year after year. It is only the world and the people who are not the same.

He may not admit it, but when grandfather first began to raise a family, he overheard his elders musing over the changing Christmas customs and heralding the approach to "complete commercialism" of the Yuletide celebration. Even then they were worried.

No one can deny that Christmas has been greatly "commercialized" since the days of early America. Yet, so has the entire nation. In the days of our ancestors there were none of the vast trading centers and commercial marts that we know today. Our very way of life has been greatly changed with modernization. Our holidays, and Christmas is the principal one, have managed to keep abreast.

Still, without reservation, Christmas is basically unchanged in its true meaning as a celebrating of the birth of the Christ-Child redeemer, come to save the world. No matter how great or how small the presents piled beneath the tree, each Christian heart never ceases to remember that Christmas is Christ's day.

Custom of 'Pinata'.

Observed in Mexico.

Is Spreading to U.S.

The pinata, Christmas custom so long observed by the happy children of Mexico, is gradually spreading into the United States.

Although it performs year-round duty in the land south of the border, the pinata is busiest during the Mexican Christian festival that lasts from December 16 to January 6. In America, it is used in various parts of the country only at Christmas time.

The pinata is made of thin, fragile clay, and is filled with sweets and trinkets before being suspended from the ceiling.

Each of the guests, not always only just children—is blindfolded and given a stick. The object is to swing the sticks overhead until someone shatters the pinata, sending the delicious contents pouring out, whence a mad scramble takes place for the spoils.

The pinata is a great aid in making the long Christmas season tolerable for Mexican children. Tradition decrees that they must wait until the final day of the 21-day Christmas season to receive their gifts.

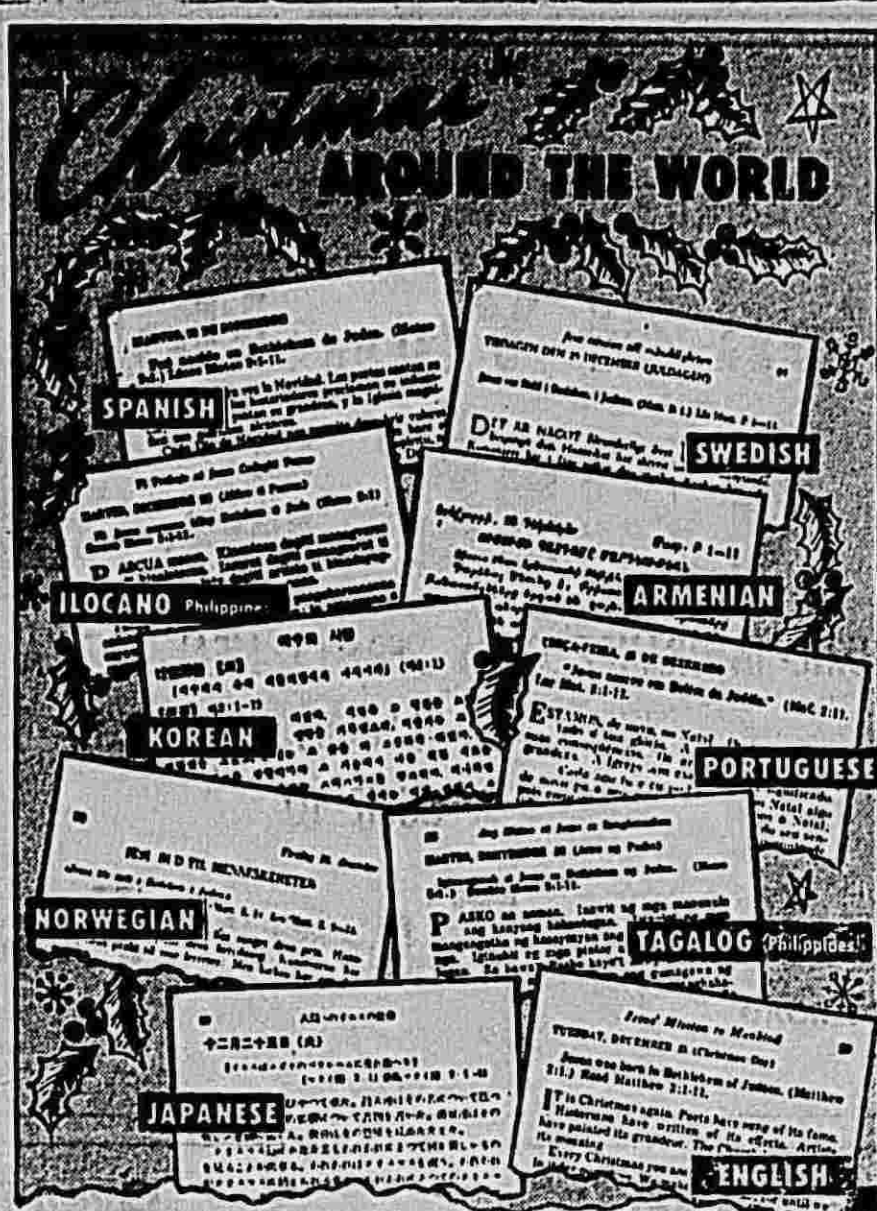

EVERY AVERAGE American home will have a Christmas tree this year. Traditional and symbolic as the trees are, they present a great fire hazard, and should be carefully watched.

Remember that when you bring a tree into the house it is going to dry up. A freshly-cut tree will not take fire any easier than the evergreen trees growing outside, but the hazard increases by the hour. For this reason, it is not wise to put up the tree too early before Christmas day or to leave it too long after the 25th. Trees of all kind will become highly inflammable at the end of a week.

Families, clubs, churches or organizations that wish to keep their trees up longer than a week should take special safeguards to keep it reasonably safe.

The tree can be kept fresh by setting it up in a pan of water. Cut off the base of the tree at an angle at least one inch above the original cut and keep it standing in water during the entire period it remains in the house. It may be necessary to add water from time to time to keep the water level above the cut.

Place the tree well away from stoves, radiators, and other sources of heat. When you smoke, stay away from the tree. Also be sure that the tree is secured in such a way that it cannot fall. Do not put it near a doorway where it might block an avenue of escape, should a fire occur.

NASHVILLE, TENN.—On Christmas Day read the Christmas story as it is found in Matthew's Gospel. This is the invitation of millions of individuals and families around the world who use The Upper Room as their daily devotional guide.

Shown above are portions of the page for Christmas Day from 10 of the 16 editions that make this publication the world's most widely used devotional guide and give its readers the daily inspiration of sharing the same Bible reading, prayer and meditation with people in all parts of the world.

People of many lands, many languages and many races—people in humble cottages and in mansions—men in the armed services, on foreign fields, on the sea, and in camps at home all have the feeling of unity that sharing the same daily meditation brings.

All those who share The Upper Room urge you to join with them, especially on Christmas day, for a time of Bible reading, meditation, and prayer either as an individual or in a family group.

TIME FOR PRESENTS . . . Billy and David are all worked up over the thought of Christmas, and they're tagging their stockings to make sure Santa doesn't get their presents mixed up. They also have found that it's a good idea to thank him in advance.

Interesting Job? Santa's Beats All At This Season

WHO HAS ONE of the most interesting jobs this time of year? That's easy. It's Santa.

The rotund gentleman hiding behind the red ensemble and flowing white beard learns a great deal about the nature of human—especially children, at this time of year.

However, after receiving thousands of letters from all over the country, and talking to thousands of youngsters on street corners and in department stores, Santa usually comes to the same conclusion each year. Times and customs change, but children seldom do.

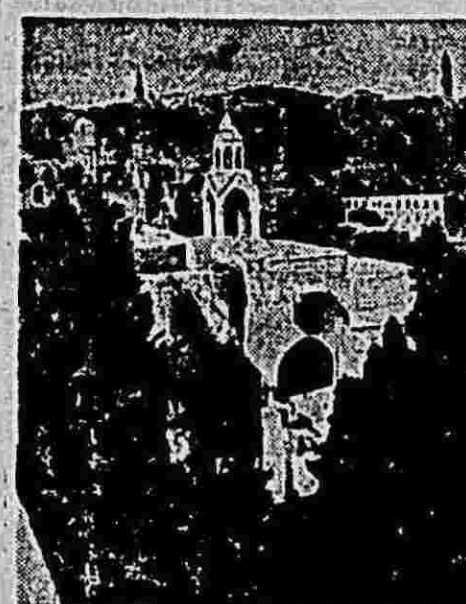

Requests that Santa receives follow a general pattern each year—everything from bicycles to roller skates and cowboy suits for boys, with dolls and elaborate accessories the favorite with the girls.

There are some exceptions. Lots of children make requests for useful items, typewriters and such, in the hope of becoming writers and stenographers. Last year one lad asked for a Bengal tiger.

Santa, understanding human that he must be, promises to fill all the requests that he can and explains tenderly why there are some that are out of reach.

BETHLEHEM
The Church of the Nativity

Christmas Was Once Holiday That Moved About on Calendar

Christmas was once a movable feast. The eastern branches of the Christian church usually celebrated it in April or May. Western Europe sometime in January.

In 337 A.D., St. Cyril, bishop of Jerusalem, set out to make the date universal. With the permission of Pope Junius I, he appointed a commission to determine, if possible, the precise date of Christ's nativity. The theologians of the Church finally agreed upon December 25, and since the year 354 this date has been celebrated.

Members of the Greek, Russian and Ukrainian Orthodox churches in the 20th century observed the date of January 7, because they use the Julian calendar, which lists December 25 on that date by our calendar.

"Greetings by Mail"

Originated in 1846,
Now a Modern Custom

Look at the paintings on the Christmas cards you send and receive — you'll find famous names and some of the best contemporary art. Here is how it all began.

On a December day in 1846, a middleclass Englishman, Henry Cole, sat at the library desk of his London home addressing to his friends what were probably the first Christmas cards ever printed. The cards depicted a Victorian family assembled at the festive board and the traditional Christmas customs of giving to the poor. They also bore the now-classic greeting: "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to you."

Cole, in a historic move, two months before had commissioned John Calcott Horsley, a Royal Academy artist, to paint the illustration for the card and had struck off a thousand lithographed copies. He dispatched them that December. This was such a markedly successful stroke of good will that plain Henry Cole subsequently became Sir Henry Cole.

Horsley's art was a far cry from today's Christmas card paintings, but he started a cycle which a hundred years later was to bring fine art into high favor on Christmas cards.

An American shopping for cards may select, for instance, a painting called "Snow Under the Arch" by another Royal Academy member—Winston Churchill, Britain's wartime prime minister and famed amateur artist. Or he might choose Peter Hurd's "One Night in Winter" or "Grandma" Moses' "The White Church" or "The Nativity" by Alexander Ross.

Mistletoe Outlived Sinister Meaning

Mistletoe, once used as a weapon of death, is now almost a universal symbol of love and peace.

According to Norse mythology, there was a god named Balder, who personified the sun. Loki, another god, plotted to destroy Balder.

Balder's mother, when she first learned of Loki's intentions to kill her son, obtained a promise from all living things that they would not harm Balder. All agreed, but the mistletoe, so it was with a mistletoe arrow that Loki induced Balder's blind brother, Hoder, to kill the sun god.

Higher powers intervened however, and Balder was restored to life. The mistletoe was placed under Frigga's care, and the mother of Balder saw that it was never again used to do harm.

The custom of giving a kiss of love or peace beneath the mistletoe is an assurance that it will never again be used as an instrument of evil.

The word "carol" is supposed to be derived from the Italian word "caroli," meaning "a song of devotion."

Origin of Gift-Giving Told in Many Versions

There are many interesting versions as to how the custom of gift giving at Christmas time started.

Some believe that it all came from ancient England, where it was once custom to hang kissing rings in the great halls. These rings were decorated with mistletoe and were the key for a pleasant holiday pastime. It is said that the young knights and ladies would come to the kissing rings with Christmas roses for their secret sweetheart.

This started it all. Now gift giving is traditional.

DEVOTION . . . Christmas is not so much a time of receiving as it is a time for giving. These children, in their prayers, are giving by far the best gift of them all—their selves.

Permanent Wave Progress
Permanent waving was first introduced in 1906. Early waves, given with complicated machines, took almost 12 hours. Today, with a home permanent kit, a woman can give herself a permanent at home in as little as two hours.

War Power
Ninety Army divisions were needed by the United States during World War II to participate in the defeat of the Axis powers.

Island Vacations
Sixty percent of the vacationers visiting Honolulu, on the island of Oahu, visit also other resort islands of Hawaii. Larger, faster planes are being introduced into Hawaiian skies to accommodate even more inter-island travel.

Bob Lubkeman and Ken Rentner were high for Antioch with 16 and 13 points respectively while for Palatine Schrage garnered 24 points on 10 fields goals and four fouls as high point man.

Antioch 41, Bensenville 55
Tired from their previous night's game and the long trip, the Sequoits dropped their game to Bensenville Saturday night 55 to 41.

Antioch started strong, leading at the first quarter 10 to 8, and had the game tied 19 to 19 at the half.

The Sequoits weakened in the third quarter and Bob Floyd's efforts to keep his team in the running were not enough. The quarter ended 36 to 27. Floyd was high point man for Antioch with 10 points, while Palm led Bensenville's scoring with 17 points.

The Antioch sophomores lost to Bensenville sophomores 54 to 34.

For Antioch Bob Lubkeman, guard, leads in the scoring so far this season with 62 points. Bob Floyd, Bruce Stahmer, and Kenneth Rentner, forwards, follow next in order with 59, 46, and 43 points respectively.
